“The Penn Field Dogfight” to Make South Austin Too Cool to Bulldoze

Where: Architerra at Penn Field
3601 South Congress Avenue
Building C, The Design Center of Austin
When: April 22, 2003
11:30 AM

Who is the best to “fly” this Austin Plane?

Join the Fight!! – they want to put an ugly train right down Congress Ave. and make Lamar Blvd a concrete freeway. South Austin neighbor, you just gotta join the fight!

Who: In honor of Mayor Gus Garcia, a man who has spent his life fighting for the people. Music provided by Shana Norton.

And beginning the mayoral candidates watch – we’re going to hear what each one will do to keep South Austin “Too Cool to Bulldoze.” Hear in ballot order:

Will Wynn	Brad Meltzer	Christopher N. Keating	Leslie Cochran
Jennifer Gale	Herman Lockett	Michael "Max" Nofziger	Marc Katz

Luncheon catered by Chango’s 3005 South Lamar, $10 Recession Price

About Penn Field: Penn Field is another South Austin treasure. In 1917 South Austin neighbors and friends used their own hands to load 317 trucks of rocks to clear the field for early aviation. Five buildings were originally built, now restored. It’s a great example of a South Austin restoration as opposed to a development.

Which Candidate Might Crash the Plane??!
